Such forward-looking statements include, among others, statements with respect to our beliefs, plans, expectations, estimates and intentions. The use of the expressions "foresee", "intend", "anticipate", "estimate", "assume", "believe" and "expect" and other similar terms and expressions indicate forward-looking statements.

A number of factors could cause future results, conditions or events to differ materially from the objectives, expectations, estimates or intentions expressed in such forward-looking statements. Such differences might be caused by several factors, including changes in Canadian and worldwide economic and financial conditions (in particular interest and exchange rates and the prices of other financial instruments), market trends, new regulatory provisions, competition, changes in technology and the potential impact of conflicts and other international events.

The foregoing list of factors is not exhaustive. Before making any investment decision, investors and others relying on our forward-looking statements should carefully consider the foregoing factors and other factors. We caution readers not to rely unduly on these forward-looking statements. We assume no obligation to update forward-looking statements in the light of new information, future events or other circumstances unless applicable legislation so provides.

Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Results of Operations

For the six-month period ended June 30, 2021, the NBI SmartData U.S. Equity Fund's Investor Series units returned 12.36% compared to 12.02% for the Fund's benchmark, the S&P 500 Index (CAD). Unlike the benchmark, the Fund's performance is calculated after fees and expenses. Please see the Past Performance section for the the returns of all of the Fund's series, which may vary mainly because of fees and expenses.

Certain series of the Fund, as applicable, may make distributions at a rate determined by the manager. This rate may change from time to time. If the aggregate amount of distributions in such series exceeds the portion of net income and net realized capital gains allocated to such series, the excess will constitute a return of capital. The manager does not believe that the return of capital distributions made by such series of the Fund have a meaningful impact on the Fund's ability to implement its investment strategy or to fulfill its investment objective.

The Fund's net asset value rose by 14.13% over the period, from $1.042 billion as at December 31, 2020 to $1.189 billion as at June 30, 2021.

The increase stemmed mainly from market fluctuations.

Investor optimism has persisted in the first half of 2021 as the post-pandemic global economic revival gained further momentum, with the ramped-up vaccine rollout and fading new coronavirus infections setting the stage for a rapid and recovery. Investors have thus far weathered concerns that accelerating pricing pressures could force an earlier-than-expected withdrawal in central bank support, with the U.S. Federal Reserve (the "Fed") officials downplaying the threat of a prolonged period of higher inflation and reiterating their pledges for ongoing accommodation, which provided a sense of calm across the financial markets.

Within the S&P 500 Index, which returned +12.02%, the best performing sectors were Energy (+41.56%), Financials (+22.17%) and Real Estate (+19.84%). The worst-performing sectors during the period were Utilities (-0.49%), Consumer Staples (+2.08%) and Consumer Discretionary (+7.18%).

In this environment, the NBI SmartData U.S. Equity Fund outperformed its benchmark, the S&P 500 Index, during the period. Among the portfolio's investment themes, signals within the High-Quality Business Models pillar contributed most to relative returns followed by the suite of signals within the Sentiment Analysis, and Fundamental Mispricings pillars. Conversely, no investment themes detracted from relative returns. The signals within the Themes and Trends pillars were approximately flat.

Among sectors, holdings within the Communication Services sector contributed the most to relative performance, with the Fund's overweight position within the Media industry contributing particularly strongly. Conversely, holdings within the Materials sector detracted the most from excess returns, with the largest proportion of challenges arising from the underweight position within the Metals & Mining industry.

At an individual stock level, the portfolio's overweight position in Ford Motor Co. was among one of the largest positive contributors to relative returns. Meanwhile, the portfolio's underweight position in NVIDIA Corp. was among one of the largest detractors from excess returns over the period.

Recent Developments

Compared to the benchmark, the portfolio remains overweight in the following sectors: Financials, Real Estate and Health Care. Conversely, the portfolio remains underweight to the following sectors: Consumer Staples, Energy, Industrials.

Looking ahead, the portfolio manager continues to believe that cheaper stocks should outpace more expensive ones and good momentum stocks should do better than poor momentum stocks. The portfolio manager also prefers names about which fundamental research analysts are becoming more positive and companies that are profitable, have sustainable earnings and use their capital to enhance shareholder value. As such, the portfolio manager anticipate remaining fully invested and expect that the value we may add over time will be due to stock selection, as opposed to size allocations.

On April 30, 2021, the Fund's independent review committee (the "IRC") was reduced to three members when Yves Julien resigned as IRC member. On May 1, 2021, the Fund's IRC was increased to four members when Paul Béland was appointed as IRC member.

On May 17, 2021, National Bank Investments Inc. ("NBI") announced the results of the proposals voted upon at the special meetings of securityholders of certain NBI Funds held on that day. The proposed fund mergers were part of a series of initiatives that seek to ensure a more streamlined NBI Fund line-up to provide investors with a comprehensive, more clearly defined range of investment products.

Therefore, the NBI U.S. Dividend Fund merged with the NBI SmartData U.S. Equity Fund on or about May 21, 2021.

It assumes that all distributions made in the periods shown were reinvested in additional securities and does not take into account sales, redemption charges, distributions, or optional charges that would have reduced returns. Past performance of a series of a Fund does not necessarily indicate how it will perform in the future.

Annual Returns

The bar charts indicate the performance for each the Fund's series in existence greater than one year during the years shown, and illustrate how the performance has changed from year to year. They show, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on January 1 (or made commencing from the start of the series) would have grown or decreased by December 31 of that year, or by June 30, as applicable.

⁽⁴⁾ This information is derived from the Fund's Annual Audited Financial Statements and Interim Unaudited Financial Statements. The net assets per unit presented in the financial statements might differ from the net asset value calculated for fund pricing purposes. The differences are explained in the notes to the financial statements.

⁽²⁾ Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of units outstanding at the relevant time. The increase or decrease from operations is based on the average number of units outstanding over the accounting period.
