Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Investment Objective and Strategies

The NBI Global Tactical Bond Fund's investment objective is to generate income and capital growth while focusing on capital preservation. To do this, the Fund invests directly, or indirectly through investments in securities of other mutual funds or through the use of derivatives, in a diverse portfolio mainly composed of bonds and other foreign fixed income securities with various maturities and credit ratings.

The portfolio manager employs various active investment strategies, such as securities selection and asset allocation based on countries, duration, yield curve, currencies and sectors in order to achieve the Fund's investment objective. These strategies are implemented using a disciplined approach within a robust risk management framework.

Risks

The global investment risk of the Fund remains as described in the simplified prospectus or any amendments thereto and Fund Facts.

Results of Operations

For the twelve-month period ended December 31, 2021, the NBI Global Tactical Bond Fund's Investor Series (formerly the Advisor Series) units returned -3.07% compared to -1.39% for the Fund's benchmark, the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Bond Index (CAD Hedged). Unlike the benchmark, the Fund's performance is calculated after fees and expenses. Please see the Past Performance section for the returns of all of the Fund's series, which may vary mainly because of fees and expenses.

Certain series of the Fund, as applicable, may make distributions at a rate determined by the manager. This rate may change from time to time. If the aggregate amount of distributions in such series exceeds the portion of net income and net realized capital gains allocated to such series, the excess will constitute a return of capital. The manager does not believe that the return of capital distributions made by such series of the Fund have a meaningful impact on the Fund's ability to implement its investment strategy or to fulfill its investment objective.

The Fund's net asset value rose by 20.04% over the period, from $864.71 million as at December 31, 2020, to $1.038 billion as at December 31, 2021. The increase stands, among other things, from the merger of the NBI Global Bond Fund and the Meritage Tactical ETF Fixed Income Portfolio with this Fund.

In the U.S., the COVID-19 vaccine rollout continued, and social restrictions ended, further boosting economic growth. Inflation though remained a concern and economic indicators painted a mixed picture. Inflation metrics, including the consumer-price index and the core personal-consumption-expenditures price index, have both repeatedly come in above expectations. However, U.S. Federal Reserve (Fed) statements have again stated that inflation was transitory, and key rate hikes would not begin until the end of 2022. Federal stimulus continued with the $1.8 trillion American Families Plan, and talks continued on the Infrastructure Bill. The U.S. dollar fell over the period.

Among developed markets, COVID-19 concerns resurfaced with the Delta variant, sending some countries back into lockdowns. While Europe reopened to vaccinated American tourists, the UK again had to issue social restrictions. Policymakers looked for an end to stimulus; however, the European Central Bank left interest rates unchanged as inflation remained in its designated range of close to but below 2%. The Bank of England stated it would continue its stimulus programs even if inflation rose higher than its 2% target. In Japan, lockdowns were reinstated. The Bank of Japan held interest rates steady during the quarter.

In this context, 10-Year U.S. government bond yields ended the semester higher after having risen significantly from 0.91% to 1.74% in Q1, as the market began to anticipate higher inflation – a view justified by the upside surprise in inflation data in late Q2. Rates have settled down somewhat in Q2 ending the period around the 1.5% mark, although the Federal Reserve (Fed) has acknowledged that it is more likely to tighten policy over the coming months, in the event of sustained higher inflation. Given the strong growth backdrop, it has been a good semester for high yield bonds which have been the standout fixed income asset over the first half of the year – especially given its lower duration and thus its ability to perform well during periods of rising rates.

In this environment, the Fund underperformed its benchmark for the semester. In Q1, the overweight positions in high-yield corporate debt (HY) as well as U.S. securitized assets contributed the most while positioning in U.S. and UK markets also added value. Conversely, positioning in Australia and the overweights to local Russian and Mexican issues, were not as lucrative. On the currency front, a short position in the Euro generated a positive contribution, but this was offset by positions in Latin American and Eastern European emerging currencies.

In Q2, security selection in corporate and securitized assets contributed to performance, but it was the decision to own a significant exposure of U.S. HY bonds (HY) that generated the bulk of the excess return. While security selection and asset allocation contributed, active positions in currencies and the strategy related to the evolution of interest rates detracted. With respect to currency, the overweight to the U.S. dollar in favor of the euro and high-quality, emerging-market currencies hindered the Fund's return. Active positioning in Eastern European currencies made a small contribution, but other active positions in the region detracted. Lastly, active positioning in G10 bond markets was a big drag on relative performance as yields fell globally and underweights suffered. Overweights to local emerging-market and Australian bonds contributed to performance, but in aggregate, active rates positioning was a headwind to performance in the second quarter.

Recent Developments

The ongoing rebound in global economic activity has become more vigorous and broad-based. In the US, fiscal stimulus and a revival in consumer spending has seen growth and inflation forecasts revised upwards and elicited the first signs of planning by the Fed for the tapering of policy accommodation. The European vaccination effort has finally found traction, pulling the economy up in tandem. Chinese growth is waning, albeit with indicators of economic activity stabilizing at slightly above trend, in response to the tightening of administrative policies toward lending. As global vaccine production rises and developed market inoculation rates plateau, the second half of 2021 should see emerging market vaccination rates pick up substantially. The outlook for emerging markets, of course, varies by region. Eastern European and North Asian economies are generally better positioned than their African and Latin American counterparts.

In this context, the Fund enters the third quarter with a conservative positioning and a notably low level of deviation relative to its benchmark. From a compositional standpoint, the active risk in the Fund is spread roughly evenly between High Yield corporate bonds, emerging market debt (in USD) and developed market bonds positioning. An overweight to securitized assets makes an additional, albeit a small contribution to active risk. Within the HY space, the Fund is most notably overweight debt issued by U.S. based Industrials and subordinated debt issued by major U.S. and European banks. In emerging markets, the Fund carries a small overweight to high-yield frontier markets, as well as a more meaningful position in BB and BBB rated emerging market corporate debt. With respect to the interest strategy, active risk is primarily driven by positioning in the U, S, a sizable curve flattener in Australia and a large underweight to local Chinese government debt. Modest overweights in commercial mortgage-backed security (CMBS), Collateralized Loan Obligation (CLOs) and assorted asset-backed security (ABS) comprise the bulk of Securitized Active risk. Lastly, with the exception of a small overweight in Chinese Yuan (CNH) versus USD, there is limited FX risk in the Fund.

On April 30, 2021, the Fund’s independent review committee (the “IRC”) was reduced to three members when Yves Julien resigned as IRC member. On May 1, 2021, the Fund’s IRC was increased to four members when Paul Béland was appointed as IRC member.

On May 17, 2021, National Bank Investments Inc. (“NBI”) announced the results of the proposals voted upon at the special meetings of securityholders of certain NBI Funds held on that day. The proposed fund mergers were part of a series of initiatives that seek to ensure a more streamlined NBI Fund line-up to provide investors with a comprehensive, more clearly defined range of investment products.

Therefore, the NBI Global Bond Fund and the Meritage Tactical ETF Fixed Income Portfolio merged with the NBI Global Tactical Bond Fund on or about June 4, 2021. To facilitate the merger, Advisor-2 Series and Series F-2, FT-2 and T-2 of the Fund were launched on May 13, 2021, and are generally not available for new purchases.

On or about May 17, 2021, the management fees for the Investor, Advisor, Advisor-U.S.$ Series and for Series R, T, T-U.S.$ of the fund were reduced to 1.60%.

The administration fees are equal to a specified percentage of the net asset value of each series of the Fund, calculated and paid in the same manner as the Fund’s management fees. The variable operating expenses payable by the Manager include, but are not limited to: transfer agency and recordkeeping costs; custodial costs; accounting and valuation fees; audit fees and legal fees; costs of preparing and distributing financial reports, simplified prospectuses, annual information forms, Fund Facts, continuous disclosure material and other securityholder communications; and costs of trustee services relating to registered tax plans, as applicable.

The Manager may, from time to time and at its sole discretion, decide to absorb a portion of a series’ management fees, administration fees or Fund costs.

The fees are calculated based on a percentage of the Fund's daily net asset value before applicable taxes and are paid on a monthly basis. A portion of the management fees paid by the Fund covers maximum annual trailer fees and sales commissions paid to brokers. Past Performance

The performance of each series of the Fund is presented below and calculated as at December 31 of each year. It assumes that all distributions made in the periods shown were reinvested in additional securities and does not take into account sales, redemption charges, distributions, or optional charges that would have reduced returns. Past performance of a series of a Fund does not necessarily indicate how it will perform in the future.

Annual Returns

The bar charts indicate the performance for each the Fund's series in existence greater than one year during the years shown, and illustrate how the performance has changed from year to year. They show, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on January 1 (or made commencing from the start of the series) would have grown or decreased by December 31 of that year, in the case of the Annual management report of fund performance, or by June 30, in the case of the Interim management report of fund performance.

⁽⁴⁾ This information is derived from the Fund's Annual Audited Financial Statements. The net assets per unit presented in the financial statements might differ from the net asset value calculated for fund pricing purposes. The differences are explained in the notes to the financial statements.

⁽²⁾ Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of units outstanding at the relevant time. The increase or decrease from operations is based on the average number of units outstanding over the accounting period.
